

LB/DON/87/03

DAR 04/333

"ARCHITECTURE IS FROZEN MUSIC" / A STUDY OF A PARALLELISM BETWEEN MUSIC AND ARCHITECTURE.

A DISSERTATION
SUBMITTED TO THE DEPARTMENT OF ARCHITECTURE OF THE
UNIVERSITY OF MORATUWA IN PARTIAL FULFILLMENT OF THE REQUIREMENT FOR THE DEGREE OF MASTER OF SCIENCE IN ARCHITECTURE

72 "03"

72.01:78

T.S. Vipulaguna.
Faculty Of Architecture
University Of Moratuwa.

79042

79042

UM Thesis

Contents

	Page No.
Acknowledgements.	III
List of Illustrations	IV
Introduction	01
Chapter One: Architecture and Other arts	04
1.1 The Anatomy of Architecture	09
1.1.1 Perception	09
1.1.2 Composition	13
1.1.3 Trends.	16
Chapter Two : Music and Architecture	20
2.1 Rhythm	22
2.2 Harmonic Proportion	29
2.2.1 The Mean Proportional Theory	32
2.3 Styles in Music and Architecture	33
2.3.1 Unity	35
2.3.2 Symmetry	37
2.3.3 Balance	38
2.3.4 Emphasis /Accentuation	39
2.4 Representation in Music & Architecture	40
2.5 Experiences with Tension – Relaxation, Event-Interval, Accord-contrast & Repetition	45

Chapter Three :	Analytical Study of Musicality of Architecture	55
3.1	Hotel Lighthouse	56
3.2	Hotel Tangalle Bay Beach	63
Conclusion		69
Bibliography		73

Acknowledgement.

This study would have not been a successful without the guidance, kind co-operation, assistance and intellectual support of a number of authorities and individuals. It gives a great pleasure to express the author's gratitude to them here.

Professor Nimal De Silva, Head of the Department of Architecture, University of Moratuwa whose advice and encouragement were always valuable.

Under the skilled guidance of Arch. Raveen Gunaratne year tutor, Department of Architecture, University of Mortuary whose valuable criticisms and mature advice improved the quality of this work to a substantial degree.

A special word of thanks due to Arch. D. P. Chandrasekara First Year Master Who helped in various ways and guided me from the very beginning and whose criticisms and observation were very useful.

My friends Ubaya, Saman spent their valuable time to get photographs and helped to edit this with a great care and interest. My appreciation also goes to colleagues at the Faculty of Architecture. Especially Nuwan and Darshan for advice, encouragement, worrying and continuous scolding to make this a success.

Very especially for my Parents, Sister, Sanjaya Aiya, Rajan Aiya, and Manel Punchiamma, of their valuable guidance and encouragements in this effort. Say, no more as words can hardly express in any real measure the help they have given.

T.S vipulaguna

02.04.2003

List of Illustrations

Fig. No		Page No
01.	Golden Rectangle	06
02.	Contrast is the pre-requisite of perception	10
03.	-Do-	10
04.	The Church of Santa Sophia	11
05.	Diastyle Structure	17
06.	Pycnostyle Structure	17
07.	Church of Ronchamp	07
08.	Rhythm of Venetian Row- Houses.	25
09.	Beat Pattern in a Drum Machine.	26
10.	Piranessi's Spanish Steps	28
11.	Constant Scale Rhythm	35
12.	Varying Scale & Rhythm	36
13.	Sense of Un-unity	36
14.	Sense of Unity	36
15.	Axial Buildings	37
16.	Sense of comprehensiveness.	37
17.	Asymmetrical Scale	38
18.	Symmetrical Scale	38
19.	The Colosseum Rome	39
20.	Plan - Basilica Ulpia	39
21.	Plan - St. Peter's Rome	41
22.	Anthropomorphic Interpretation of Architecture	44
23.	Counterpart Combinations	47
24.	Tonal Contrasts in the Melody	49
25.	Expression's varies with rhythm.	52
26.	Ground Floor Plan	56
27.	Ariel View	56
28.	Beginning of spatial progression	57
29.	Entrance view towards the Car porch	57
30.	The ceremony of entry enhance by using grand scale proportions.	58
31.	Geometrical openings alien the mind set with mood of attraction.	58

32.	-Do-	58
33.	Contrast colour is used to emphasis the keynote of the composition	58
34.	White cubical tunnel placed as a pause inbetween introduction and chorus.	59
35.	Reflection of light guides the "shruti" constant according to the rhythm.	59
36.	The spiral is the symbol of being free from earthly matters.	60
37.	Spiral stairway and its sculptural handrail visualized the them of this melody	60
38.	The perennial movement towards light	60
39.	View towards outwards through the Light beam	61
40.	The articulation between stairway and main lobby	61
41.	Frame of the ocean and sky	61
42.	The lobby opens onto a colonnaded ambulatory	62
43.	The beat is still guided by the structure of this space	62
44.	Rhythmic experience spreads easily from one person to another	63
45.	Ground floor plan	63
46.	The first impression of the building
47.	The ceremony of entry	64
48.	Sensation through curiosity.	64
49.	Stress on the detailing arousing stress on the notes.	65
50.	Pause (about to enter), enhance by tight space with low late.	65
51.	The melody is the horizontal aspect	65
52.	Articulation of the column.	65
53.	Spiral stare way	66
54.	Harmony is a vertical aspect	66
55.	Circular openings.	66
56.	Split openings	66
57.	Progression toward the light	67
58.	The Progression toward the sky	67
59.	The composition of the rhythm	67
60.	Interlude plays in-between the nature and the form	68
61.	The concrete detailing tries to achieve the glamour with the sea	68
62.	Consciousness with the sea	68

